CDFA Ohio Financing Roundtable Conference Announced
Event to Take Place September 25, 2012 in Columbus

Columbus, OH – The Council of Development Finance Agencies (CDFA) is pleased to announce the 2012 CDFA Ohio Financing Roundtable Conference for Thursday, September 25 in Columbus, OH. The conference will focus on “Innovation, Energy, and Infrastructure” in Ohio.

The conference comes at a time when the state is seeing significant growth and change in the areas of innovation, energy, and infrastructure finance. The conference agenda will focus on creative financing structures, how traditional development finance tools can contribute to these sectors, and the future of development finance in the state.

“CDFA is proud to host our fourth Ohio conference, and once again we have developed a program that will address the state’s most pressing economic development opportunities and look to the future for strategies and solutions for moving the Buckeye state forward,” said Toby Rittner, President & CEO of CDFA.

The CDFA Ohio Financing Roundtable was launched in 2009 as a special initiative of the Council to support the development finance industry in the state. The Roundtable distributes a monthly e-newsletter promoting the most important industry news and resources in Ohio.

The one-day 2012 CDFA Ohio Financing Roundtable Conference will occur on Thursday, September 25 at the Fawcett Center in Columbus. Conference information and registration is now available online at www.cdfa.net.

The Council of Development Finance Agencies is a national association dedicated to the advancement of development finance concerns and interests. CDFA is comprised of the nation’s leading and most knowledgeable members of the development finance community representing public, private and non-profit entities alike.
