

H.R. 4213

“Tax Extenders Act of 2009”

December 7, 2009

Summary: The Tax Extenders Act of 2009 would provide individuals and businesses with approximately $31 billion in tax relief in 2009 by extending for one year (through 2010) more than forty provisions that are scheduled to expire at the end of 2009. This $30 billion in tax relief includes more than $5 billion in individual tax relief and more than $17 billion in business tax relief. The Tax Extenders Act of 2009 also extends more than $7 billion of tax provisions that encourage charitable contributions, provide community development incentives, provide tax relief in the event of a Presidentially-declared disaster, and support the deployment of alternative vehicles and alternative fuels. The Tax Extenders Act of 2009 provides this relief without adding to the deficit.

Extension of temporary increase in limit on cover over of rum excise tax revenues to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the provision providing for payment of $13.25 per gallon to cover over a $13.50 per proof gallon excise tax on distilled spirits produced in or imported into the United States. This proposal is estimated to cost $128 million over 10 years.

Extension of American Samoa economic development credit. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the American Samoa economic development credit. In general, this credit provides certain domestic corporations operating in American Samoa with a possessions tax credit to offset their U.S. tax liability on income earned in American Samoa from active business operations, sales of assets used in a business, or certain investments in American Samoa. This proposal is estimated to cost $18 million over 10 years.

II. EXPIRING COMMUNITY ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

Extension of tax incentives for Empowerment Zones. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the designation of certain economically depressed census tracts as Empowerment Zones. Businesses and individual residents within Empowerment Zones are eligible for special tax incentives. This proposal is estimated to cost $381 million over 10 years.

Extension of tax incentives for Renewal Communities. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the designation of certain economically depressed census tracts as Renewal Communities. Businesses and individual residents within Renewal Communities are eligible for special tax incentives. This proposal is estimated to cost $786 million over 10 years.

New markets tax credit. The bill would extend for one year (through 2011) the new markets tax credit, permitting a maximum annual amount of qualified equity investments of $3.5 billion. This proposal is estimated to cost $1.402 billion over 10 years.

Extension of tax incentives for the District of Columbia. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the designation of certain economically depressed census tracts within the District of Columbia as the District of Columbia Enterprise Zone. Businesses and individual residents within this enterprise zone are eligible for special tax incentives. The bill would also extend for one year (through 2010) the $5,000 first-time homebuyer credit for the District of Columbia. This proposal is estimated to cost $17 million over 10 years.

Extension of tax incentives for the New York Liberty Zone. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the special depreciation allowance for certain real property within the New York Liberty Zone and the time for issuing New York Liberty Zone bonds. This proposal is estimated to cost $318 million over 10 years.

Extend Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC) for Hurricane Katrina Employees. The bill would extend for one year (through August 27, 2010) the work opportunity tax credit for certain employers hiring in the Hurricane Katrina core disaster area. This proposal is estimated to cost $7 million over 10 years.

Extension of Increased Rehabilitation Credit for Historic Structures in the Gulf Opportunity Zone. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the increased rehabilitation credit for qualified expenditures in the Gulf Opportunity Zone. The Gulf Opportunity Zone Act of 2005 increased the rehabilitation credit from 10 percent to 13 percent of qualified expenditures for any qualified rehabilitated building other than a certified historic structure, and from 20 percent to 26 percent of qualified expenditures for any certified historic structure. This proposal is estimated to cost $25 million over 10 years.

Election for refundable low-income housing credit for 2010. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the program that was enacted as part of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 that allows state housing agencies to elect to receive a payment in lieu of a portion of the State's allocation of low-income housing tax credits. This proposal is estimated to cost $471 million over 10 years.

III. EXPIRING GENERAL DISASTER TAX RELIEF PROVISIONS

Extension of expanded and enhanced casualty loss deductions relating to federal disasters. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the provision that allows taxpayers who have suffered loss as a result of a Federally-declared disaster to claim a deduction for casualty losses (i.e., both itemizers and non-itemizers) and would allow these taxpayers to calculate their casualty loss deduction without regard to their adjusted gross income. The bill would also extend for one year (through 2010) the current law $500 per loss threshold. This proposal is estimated to cost $728 million over 10 years.

Extension of expensing of qualified disaster expenses. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the provision that allows businesses that have been adversely affected by a Federally-declared disaster to write off and immediately recover demolition, repair (regardless of whether repair costs are incurred due to a casualty event), clean-up, and environmental remediation expenses ("Qualified Disaster Expenses"). This proposal is estimated to cost $32 million over 10 years.

Extension of five-year carry-back period for certain losses relating to federal disasters. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the provision that allows businesses to carry back to the previous five years the following losses: (1) casualty losses that are attributable to a Federally-declared disaster; and (2) Qualified Disaster Expenses. This proposal is estimated to cost $129 million over 10 years.

Extension of relaxed mortgage revenue bond limitations for federal disasters. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the provision that allows states waive certain rules that limit their ability to use tax-exempt housing bonds to provide loans to taxpayers that wish to acquire residences in Federally-declared disaster areas. The bill would also extend for one year (through 2010) the provision that allows states to use their tax-exempt housing bonds to provide loans to repair or reconstruct homes and rental housing units that have been rendered unsafe for use as a residence by reason of a Federally-declared disaster or have been demolished or relocated by reason of government order on account of a Federally-declared disaster. Such loans are limited to the lower of (1) the actual cost of the repair or reconstruction or (2) $150,000. This proposal is estimated to cost $63 million over 10 years.

Extension of bonus depreciation for qualified disaster property. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the provision that permits businesses that suffered damage as a result of a Federally-declared disaster to claim an additional first-year depreciation deduction equal to 50 percent of the cost of new real and personal property investments made in the Presidentially-declared disaster area. This proposal is estimated to cost $1.434 billion over 10 years.

Extension of increased small business expensing for expenditures relating to federal disasters. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the provision that increases by $100,000 (or the cost of qualified property, if less) the amount of expensing available for qualifying expenditures made in a Presidentially-declared disaster area. The bill would also extend for one year (through 2010) the provision that increases by $600,000 (or the cost of qualified property, if less) the level of investment at which the small business expensing benefits phase-out. The cost of this proposal is included in the estimate above.

IV. EXPIRING ENERGY TAX PROVISIONS

Extension of tax incentives for biodiesel and renewable diesel. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the $1.00 per gallon production tax credit for biodiesel and the small agri-biodiesel producer credit of 10 cents per gallon. The bill would also extend for one year (through 2010) the $1.00 per gallon production tax credit for diesel fuel created from biomass. This proposal is estimated to cost $1.008 billion over 10 years.

Extension of the alternative motor vehicle credit for heavy hybrids. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the alternative motor vehicle credit for so-called heavy hybrids (i.e., hybrid motor vehicles that are not passenger automobiles or light trucks). This proposal is estimated to cost $7 million over 10 years.

Extension of tax incentive for natural gas and propane used as a fuel in transportation vehicles. The bill would extend for one year (through 2010) the $0.50 per gallon production tax credit for natural gas and propane used as a transportation fuel. The bill would not extend this credit for propane used to power forklifts. This proposal is estimated to cost $125 million over 10 years.

Extension of special rule for sales of electric transmission property. The bill would extend for one year (for sales prior to January 1, 2011) the present law deferral of gain on sales of transmission property by vertically integrated electric utilities to FERC-approved independent transmission companies. Rather than recognizing the full amount of gain in the year of sale, this provision would allow gain on such sales to be recognized ratably over an eight-year period. This proposal is revenue neutral over 10 years.

V. REVENUE PROVISIONS

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act of 2009 (H.R. 3933 & S.1934). Recent events have highlighted the growing use of foreign financial institutions, foreign trusts, and foreign corporations by U.S. individuals to evade U.S. tax. In order to prevent this tax evasion, the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act of 2009 would provide the U.S. Treasury Department with significant new tools to find and prosecute U.S. individuals that hide assets overseas from the Internal Revenue Service. Based on proposals included in President Obama's 2010 Budget, on legislation proposed by Senator Carl Levin and Representative Lloyd Doggett, and a draft released by Senator Max Baucus, the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act would force foreign financial institutions, foreign trusts, and foreign corporations to provide information about their U.S. accountholders, grantors, and owners, respectively. The nonpartisan Joint Committee on Taxation has estimated the provisions of the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act would prevent U.S. individuals from evading $7.7 billion in U.S. tax over the next ten years. The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act of 2009 has been developed in close consultation with the U.S. Department of the Treasury, and is the legislative product of numerous hearings conducted in the Senate Permanent Select Committee on Investigations, the Select Revenue Measures Subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee, and the Senate Finance Committee. This proposal is estimated to raise $7.668 billion over 10 years.

Taxation of carried interest as ordinary income. The bill would prevent investment fund managers from paying taxes at capital gains rates on investment management services income received as carried interest in an investment fund. The bill would require such managers to treat carried interest as ordinary income received in exchange for the performance of services to the extent that carried interest does not reflect a reasonable return on invested capital. The bill would continue to tax carried interest at capital gain tax rates to the extent that carried interest reflects a reasonable return on invested capital. This is consistent with the proposal to change the tax treatment of carried interest that is included in the President's FY2010 Budget. This provision has previously passed the House of Representatives on two occasions. First, as part of H.R. 3996 (110th Congress) where it passed by a vote of 216 to 193. Second, as part of H.R. 6275 (110th Congress) where it passed by a vote of 233 to 189 (with 10 Republicans joining with 223 Democrats in support). This proposal is estimated to raise $24.616 billion over 10 years.

VI. STUDY

Study of extended tax expenditures. The bill would direct the Chief of Staff of the Joint Committee on Taxation to submit a report to the Committee on Ways and Means and the Committee on Finance on each tax expenditure extended by this Act. This proposal has no revenue effect.
