AGRICULTURE SECRETARY VILSACK ANNOUNCES $615.8 MILLION FOR RURAL WATER PROJECTS

Recovery Act Funds Will Help Strengthen Rural Economies and Create Jobs

WASHINGTON, April 28, 2009 — Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack today announced the selection of more than $615.8 million in water and environmental projects that are being funded immediately with federal funds provided through the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. The projects will help provide safe drinking water and improved wastewater treatment systems for rural towns and communities in 34 states.

“Aging water and waste infrastructure systems threaten the ability of rural communities to provide clean, reliable drinking water to residents and protect precious environmental resources.” said Vilsack. “These investments will help bring increased economic benefits to rural America by providing needed water, water systems and creating jobs.”

The funding announced today will be allocated to 193 projects and create or save an estimated 12,385 jobs. They are the first of many projects that will receive Recovery Act funds to improve rural water and waste disposal systems.

In Ohio, Earnhart Hill Regional Water and Sewer District has been selected to receive $3.6 million to consolidate wastewater treatment operations of two neighboring villages. The consolidation will increase operational efficiency and help provide improved and affordable service for village residents. The Syracuse-Racine Regional Sewer District will receive $3.1 million for much-needed upgrades to a current system which serves the villages of Syracuse and Racine. The project will also extend service to additional village residents who currently do not have centralized service.

USDA Rural Development’s Water and Environmental Program provides loans and grants to ensure that the necessary investments are made in water and wastewater infrastructure to deliver safe drinking water and protect the environment in rural areas. More information about USDA rural Development can be found at www.rurdev.usda.gov. Funding of individual recipients is contingent upon their meeting the terms of the loan or grant agreement.

President Obama signed The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 into law on Feb. 17, 2009. It is designed to jumpstart the nation's economy, create or save millions of jobs and put a down payment on addressing long-neglected challenges so our country can thrive in the 21st century. The Act includes measures to modernize our nation's infrastructure, enhance energy independence, expand educational opportunities, preserve and improve affordable health care, provide tax relief, and protect those in greatest need.
