

Project Manager, PGAV Planners

Location: Saint Louis, MO

Experience Level: Mid-Level

Job Type: Full-time

PGAV Planners is seeking a creative, experienced Project Manager to join our team! Project Managers are responsible for managing projects from start to finish within determined schedules and budgets, including interacting with clients one-on-one, writing reports, and presenting at public meetings.

The candidate can expect to work on feasibility analyses, market analyses, development finance and tax revenue studies. In addition, employees are encouraged to be creative and pursue work of interest. We encourage employees to get involved in community efforts of their choosing and, as a collaborative team member, help guide the direction of our group.

The selected candidate will be a well-organized self-starter who will also represent themselves and the firm well during client interactions, public presentations, and business development efforts.

As a company, PGAV creates an environment in which personal growth is as important as productivity. The office environment encourages collaboration through the open studio design, many break out spaces, weekly happy hours, and refreshments and snacks throughout the day. PGAV Volunteers In Action, or "PGAV Via," promotes volunteerism by promoting specific events and encouraging employees to find their own opportunities. The PGAV Green Team helps ensure our office is considering sustainability and our environmental impact.
